The Identification Systems Group (ISG), the nationwide network of local identification system integrators, is excited to announce the ISG Proximity Credential product line. These credentials are available from all 31 ISG dealers that serve the USA and Canada.

Using multiple major manufacturers, the ISG is able to provide low-cost Proximity credentials that are durable, carry a limited lifetime warranty, and are available for quick shipment. The use of multiple manufacturers provides supply chain redundancy, as well as a long list of 40 bit formats.

“The ISG can now offer a wide range of high-quality, affordable proximity credentials,” says Tom Stiles, ISG Executive Director.

ISG Proximity credentials have gone through rigid testing and are certified to work with all ISG products, such as card printers and readers. Printable ISG Proximity cards are available in both standard PVC material and durable composite material. Wristbands, clamshell cards, discs and key fobs are also available.
