

The Identification Systems Group (ISG) Names David Lee as Executive Director

Mr. Lee brings more than 16 years of industry experience in sales, operations and management to the ISG as its new Executive Director

Morganton, NC (PRWEB) December 7, 2021

The Identification Systems Group (ISG), the nationwide network of local identification system integrators, is pleased to announce that David Lee has accepted a position with the ISG as its Executive Director. He will manage all of the ISG's day-to-day operations.

Lee brings 16 years of experience with him in sales, service management and operations. His career included successful roles for over 16 years in operations, sales and management at Bridgeway Solutions in North Carolina, an ISG Member dealer, including serving as their Vice President and General Manager. He started his career with Bridgeway as a field sales representative and later served as Service Manager and Director of Operations for 7 years before being named Vice President and General Manager in 2015.

"We are pleased to welcome David Lee to the ISG as our new executive director," says Josh Dunbar, ISG Board President.

David Lee will be replacing Tom Stiles, who after 8 years of successfully leading the ISG has decided to retire. "Tom was a tremendous asset to the ISG and served us well in his leadership role. We wish him a long and happy retirement spent with his family", said Josh Dunbar, President of the ISG Board of Directors. ISG staff reports to the Board of Directors which is made up of five Member shareholders. "We are pleased to welcome David Lee to the ISG as our new Executive Director," said Dunbar. "We selected David for his industry experience and longstanding knowledge of the ISG, its solutions, members and partners, and are confident that he will guide the ISG toward continued success."
